Regular Walking Tours

LISBON OLD TOWN

Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays at 10h from April to October

During this walk the main topic will be the last 2,500 years of the history of Lisbon. Its settlers have included the Phoenicians, who named it "calm bay", the Romans, who were the first major settlers, and the Arabs, who shaped the old town alleys. Lisbon's climate and geography were tempting to all the peoples who landed here. And they still are, incidentally. Until the present day the old quarter of Alfama, sitting on the hill facing the river, has had important links to maritime activities, from fishing to freight handling. Its population maintains a unique lifestyle and sense of community, conditioned by urban density and narrow streets. In this walk you will become acquainted with:

- Lisbon's Cathedral and Casa dos Bicos . Romans and Moors • Jews and forced converts persecutions
- Maze-like streets • Hidden vantage points • Migration and dockers

LISBON DOWNTOWN

Thursdays at 10h from April to October

For centuries downtown Lisbon has been the heart of the social, commercial and spiritual life of the city, as much as the center of power of Portugal. Despite this lasting prominence, a lot has changed since the Phoenician and the Roman occupation, when there was still an arm of the Tejo river flooding this area. The earthquake of 1st November 1755 transformed it into ruins, but provided the pretext for an innovative reconstruction of the city's downtown area. Join us at this Lisbon Walking Tour and learn about: • The 1755 earthquake and the day after • The Roman salted fish factories • The Comércio Sq.: center of power • Rebirth of Lisbon: the dream of a city come true • A new city built on water • The birth of modern seismology • The hidden churches

LISBON REVELATION TOUR Mondays, Fridays , Saturdays and Sundays at 10h from April to October

Because it provides you with an all-in-one overview of the main city sites and some well kept secrets, exposing you instantly to its special atmosphere and authenticity, that make up the character of this vibrant Atlantic city. This unforgettable tour takes you on the winding tracks of the famous 28 tram, through the narrow streets of the Old Town districts; up the Santa Justa iron lift rising to the Downtown heights, offering your eyes an everlasting memory of city, providing the natural breaks to a relaxed stroll on foot across historic Lisbon. Include a free ride on Tram 28

Regular Walking Tours

LISBON LEGENDS & MYSTERIES

Tuesdays at 10h from April to October

In addition to facts, the 2,500 years of the city's historical records contain many secrets, legends and myths. On this walk you will delve into some of the most curious ones. Whilst helping to keep track of fantastic stories and events, some of these tales and legends gave rise to saints, heroes and villains. You will become acquainted with some of the most intriguing of these characters, including some of whom the city is not so proud. During this walk you will learn about: • Ulysses as the founder of Lisbon • St. Vincent and the Ravens • The young martyrs of Lisbon • Gusmão's flying device (the Passarola) • The murder of the Tavora family • The Marquis of Pombal – angel or demon? • The curse of Simão Sulim • Downtown architecture: A Masonic fantasy

LISBON CITY OF SPIES

Fridays at 14:30h from April to October

Portugal remained neutral in the 2nd World War and Lisbon became a rendezvous spot for spies, taking advantage of the city's strategic Atlantic connections, quickly turning into a true "nest of spies" as mentioned in several period chronicles. The "plane to Lisbon", as an escape route in the movie Casablanca, remains one of the best known examples. Inside the city both the Allies and the Axis kept impressive diplomatic services: probably the only place in war-torn Europe where all sides were able to meet on equal grounds. In this walking tour you will visit some of the sites related with the spy stories of the 2nd World War and also learn about: • The most famous spy Hotels in Lisbon • The refugees and the fashion trends • The lonely fight of the Portuguese consul in Bordeaux • The most important WWII spy, Garbo/Arabel • The story of the real James Bond • The Jewish gold and the tungsten traffic • The games of the political police

Walking Private Tours

Lisbon has steadily built up an image of one of the world's most interesting cities to visit. Its stunning location and historic significance is generously complemented by remarkable aesthetics, making it stand out as one of the few capital cities still human in pace and in scale. Discover the city in the company of enthusiastic and knowledgeable guides, complementing the natural limitations of travel itineraries to reveal the true personality of this unique city.

LISBON UPTOWN

The cosmopolitan and literary Chiado, together with the bohemian Bairro Alto, are roamed about in this walk. The life and personality of the best known player of the modernist generation in Portugal - the poet Fernando Pessoa – provides the adequate script. You will also spot unique perspectives of the city, available only from Lisbon's most Romantic hill and the first to be seriously planned as an urban site in the 16th century.

Key features of this walk include: • Lisbon growing outside its walls • The city during the Romantic period • The poet Fernando Pessoa • The "A Brasileira" coffee shop and the modernist generation • Breathtaking views of the city • The golden age of the newspapers • Bohemian life in Bairro Alto

LISBON ARCHITECTURE TOUR

The History of Lisbon is well engraved in its body, in a dense tale of architectural testimonies from all ages. The tour we propose presents the architecture of Lisbon in the form of a time travel across 3 different architectural ages, from the 18th to the 21st century. 1 - The dreamed city centre: the opportunity provided by the 1755 massive earthquake could not be missed. The Marquis of Pombal and a team of military engineers recovered the plans for the long awaited renovation of the city and created a world reference in architecture with a lean and seismic resistant design for Lisbon's downtown district. 2 - The modern city of the 40's: the power of the dictatorship, the modern style and the national image. Where does the architectural freedom start... and where does it end? The explosion of the city to the North, the middle class housing projects, the new markets, the airport and countless public works created the set of this golden era of the Portuguese architecture. 3 - The future city? In the Nation's Park area we will observe how was the conversion of the former Expo 98' into a fresh urban site achieved and discuss the secret of this success.

In this tour you will become familiar with the following topics: • Lisbon before the 1755 earthquake • Pombal's Downtown • Modern Architects and Architectures • From Areeiro to Alameda – The new city of the New State • Contemporary Architects and Architectures • The Expo 98 area

JEWISH PRESENCE IN LISBON

The Jewish presence in Portugal goes back a long way but is unfortunately little known to the general public. Keeping in mind the myths about the foundation of the Sephardite communities in the Iberian Peninsula and the first traces of Jewish settlement in Portugal, this Walking Tour presents the most remarkable moments of the History of Lisbon from the viewpoint of this community, now drastically reduced to a limited number of people. This Walking Tour goes across two millenniums and ends in the 20th century, with the passage through Lisbon of 200.000 refugees on their way to America, many with visas issued by Aristides Sousa Mendes, thus managing to escape Nazi persecution. In this Walking Tour you will become acquainted to:

• The Jewish districts of the City • Their commercial relevance in the maritime trade • Forced conversion to Christianity • The Pessah massacre • Establishment of the Inquisition • The "black lists" • The secret treaty to rehabilitate the "new Christians" • Refugees daily life in Lisbon during the 2nd World War

LISBON UNDERGROUND As a part of a whole complex, Lisbon subway stations form the most important Public Art Gallery in town. The city's inhabitants that daily cross these subterranean galleries have little time to enjoy these spaces. The widespread TV screens in the platforms tend to steal their attention as they go by hastily. Still, there are real surprises as isolated pieces or sets, sometimes organized as fruition circuits. The city's Music Museum for example is installed in one of the subway stations. In the decoration of the whole network there is an element that stands out: the Tile (Azulejo). It is consistently the most expressive element present, in creations made both by Portuguese and foreign artists. In this walk we visit some of the stations, regaining awareness of the country's History and some universal themes such as the Declaration of Human Rights. In particular we expose our walkers to some beautiful images portraying: • The decorative Tile in Portugal • The History of the Discoveries • The exploration of Brazil • Humanism and Literature • The modernist generation

LISBON OF THE DISCOVERIES The city of Lisbon is still recalled by its glorious past linked with the Discoveries. Centre of the spices trade and meeting point for people from all over the world, Lisbon was, in 1500, a cosmopolitan and dynamic city. In this walk we revive this period in the monumental area of Belém, where the Monastery and the Tower remain two live symbols of that golden age, where the testimonies of the new worlds have inspired the dominant decorations of the "manuelin" style. In this Walking Tour we invite you to discover:

• D. Manuel, king of the seas • Vasco da Gama • Monastery of Belém, History and symbolism • Palace of Belém • 16th century buildings • Pastéis de Belém Royal Factory • Lisbon's shoreline
